Dear Friends,

Sixty years ago, in February 1953, a small group of Bucks County residents met to discuss ways to meet the urgent, constantly growing need for a family service agency. At this meeting, a steering committee was selected, and after much hard work, Family Service Association of Bucks County was formed. In October 1953 we opened our doors to clients. During those first three years, our organization served nearly one thousand families with a wide range of emotional needs.¹

In her address at our first Annual Meeting, Lela C. Durand, Executive Director of Family Service, referred to our organization as “a service designed for and used by the people of Bucks County.” Though the community’s needs and therefore our agency’s services have greatly expanded over time, today, sixty years later, Mrs. Durand’s description of Family Service is still accurate.

We are sixty years strong. Our organization continues to succeed because of our unique ability to not only identify critical needs in the community, but also to respond to those needs through effective, efficient, evidence-based programs and services. When people come to us with a need, whatever that need may be, our response has always been and will continue to be: “We can help.” The needs of the community evolve over time, and our organization is responsive to these ever-changing needs. We grow alongside our community members who rely on us day in and day out for help, guidance and support.

A great deal of our success can also be attributed to you, the donor, friend and loyal supporter. This past year, we have strengthened the lives of 9,052 individuals. Throughout this report, you will come across personal accounts of some of the lives we’ve touched. As you read these vignettes, please remember that it is your unwavering generosity, kindness and support that made these successes possible. For this, we thank you.

Warm regards,

Audrey J. Tucker, MSW, LSW

An 81% increase in homelessness was seen across Bucks County from 2007 to 2010.³

We can help.

Ray was temporarily living with relatives, but he couldn't stay there any longer. He was out of options and found himself homeless, so he turned to the shelter for help.

Ray immediately began to develop a plan with his case manager and budget counselor, both of whom are at the shelter thanks to your generous support.

His initial goals included employment and affordable housing. Ray found a job and spent more than three months saving. Last month, he reached his savings goal and moved into a modest apartment. Living on his own allows him to spend quality time with his two sons for the first time in years. Ray continues to receive our support, and he looks forward to an even brighter future.

2013 HONOREES

60th Anniversary Award

Calkins Media, Comcast, The Huffman Group, Cheryl & Tom Schrier

On February 3, 2013, Buck Up Bucks County launched. Each resident of Bucks County was asked to donate a dollar so the Bucks County Emergency Homeless Shelter could get a desperately needed kitchen renovation. The community's response was overwhelming, and the success of the fundraising campaign and construction are a direct result of having the right people involved. We are very grateful to the following people for their support and wish to recognize them with our 60th Anniversary Award: Pat Walker and the entire team of writers, reporters, photographers, videographers and staff at Calkins Media for spreading the word and providing daily updates via The Intelligencer and Bucks County Courier Times; Tom Schrier for volunteering to be our Project Engineer; Cheryl Schrier for signing on as our Volunteer Kitchen Designer Extraordinaire; Franco D'Andrea, Ian Dove and The Huffman Group for leading the construction team and bringing the renovation to life; and Brian Jeter and the entire team at Comcast for airing our Public Service Announcement over 250 times across the greater Bucks County market.

Family Builder of the Year

Foundations Community Partnership

Since Foundations Community Partnership (FCP) formed in 2007, it has supported numerous vital programs that meet the behavioral health and human service needs of children and young adults. FCP promotes higher education through scholarships and internships and encourages professional excellence through a workshop series that brings experts to Bucks County to share their expertise with local providers. FCP has been a key partner in the development of our school-based counseling and therapy program, our Autism program (AACES) and the expansion of our licensed mental health program in Quakertown.

Family of the Year

Each year, we select one family who came to us with a challenge and made a strong commitment to strengthening their lives through treatment in one of our programs. This family is recognized as our "Family of the Year" because of their dedication to improving their overall health and wellness in an effort to maximize their independence.

26-year-old Josh called the CONTACT Helpline on a Tuesday evening. He was severely depressed and said he had a knife that he planned to use to kill himself.

Thanks to your support of Family Service, Rebecca, one of our volunteer listeners, was there to answer Josh's call for help.

Rebecca convinced Josh to put the knife down, and later, to stay on the line with her as he walked to the hospital, just a few minutes down the road. As Josh reached the Emergency Room, Rebecca said goodbye knowing that he was in good hands.

Family Service
Opens 2 Offices

W. Keith Hafer, president of the Board of Directors of the Family Service Association of Bucks County, has announced that Family Service has officially opened two offices in Bucks County.

To serve the Lower Bucks area, one office has been established in the William Pen Center in Fallsington, and for Central and Upper Bucks County, another has been established at 80 N. Main Street in Doylestown.

Both offices of Family Service, a Red Feather organization, are under the direction of Mrs. Lela Dprand, executive director of the Family Service Agency of Bucks County.

327 Families
Use Agency

Fifty-six different communities, including 327 families, used the agency's services of the Family Service Association of Bucks County last year.

George K. Bennett, president, today revealed that 3,110 case-work interviews were held with these families or others in the interest of their welfare.

The agency, supported by the Bucks County United Fund, provides a counseling service to families and individuals with problems confronting them.

Bennett revealed the culmination of a plan worked out between Family Service and the Bucks County Bar Association to establish a new service, Legal Aid, Lawyer Referral Service, available to persons living in Lower Bucks county who are in need of such service and qualify for it.

Beginning Oct. 1, a lawyer will be at the agency's Lower Bucks County Office, Route 13 and Levittown Parkway, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Family Ties Build Future

CHILDREN FROM A DISORGANIZED FAMILY tend to become poor parents and irresponsible citizens. Disruption of normal family life not only penalizes family members today, but is likely to sow seeds of future unhappiness.

It is in the family that the individual develops as a personality and forms the closest relationships . . . in the family setting, the child learns the rudiments of dealing with the problems of living.

In Bucks County, the Family Service Association is the place to which persons may come for help with problems that can disrupt healthy family life.. This Red Feather service of the United Community Fund offers help, education and guidance with parentchild concerns, marital problems, financial and vocational re-planning, health rehabilitation needs and similar matters.

Like fingerprints, personal problems are never alike. Family Service, with offices at Doylestown and Fallsington, grew out of the recognition that more than financial aid was needed to help people in our county. The agency focuses on the family as a social unit of primary importance to the Individual and to the community.

Levittown Minus
Teen-Age Problems

But Children May Bring School Boom

Levittown, Bucks county's fastest growing metropolitan area, has no teen-ager problems, very few grandmothers, or mothers-in-law, but so many children that Bucks county school authorities will have a headache in the near future.

Carl W. Wild, State planning consultant, at a meeting of the Bucks County Planning Commission here this week revealed that nearly 30 per cent of the population in Levittown is under five years of age.

Very Few Grandmothers

"Levittown," said the State Planning Consultant, "has very few grandmothers. In the 15 to 19 year range there are practically no teen agers.

"The largest male group is between 30 and 35 years old and the largest female group is between 25 and 30 years. Levittown now has about 6500 homes and 15,000 population.

"Soon Levittown and Bucks county school authorities will have to think in terms of 16 or maybe 32 schools depending on the growth of the population.

May Need Large Schools

"Bucks school authorities and educators may find that they will need 800-pupil capacity, 1,000-pupil or 1200-pupil capacity schools.

"In fact, they may find that starting out to build an 800 pupil-capacity school they will have needed a 1,000 or 1200 student building by the time it is constructed.

"Educational costs per pupil may range from $300 to $350 per boy or girl," Wild concluded.

Sprawling Levittown is now divided between two townships, Bristol and Falls, and one borough, Tullytown.

The Family

By A RUSSELL THOMAS

A VISIT to the Family Service Association of Bucks County proved interesting. We found out a few things about what's happening to families. With Americans marrying younger, births setting new high records, size of families showing an upward trend, 94 per cent of the population is now living in a family unit. Families with both a father and mother comprise seven out of eight families. Of the other than husband-wife families, about three out of four have a woman at the head, generally indicating there are many more widows than widowers.

THE estimated marriages (1,569,000) in 1956 was larger than in any year since 1951. . . At the last count in 1955, among girls, 14-19 years In 1955, 14 per cent were married as compared with 10 per cent in 1940. Among girls 20-24 years in 1955, 71 per cent were married as compared with 53 per cent in 1940. Slightly more than one-half the men at ages 20-24 were married in 1955 or had been, as compared with 28 per cent in 1940.

ABOUT 11,800,000 married women, 29 of the total, are in the labor force. More and more women return to work as the children grow up. About one-third of all wives between the ages of 35 to 54 now work outside the home.

THE registered births in 1956 reached a new record high of 4,168,000 topping the 1955 figures by 3.1 per cent, the largest relative annual increase in births since 1951. . . In 1955 almost 48 million children under 18 years - about seven out of every eight - were living with both parents. . . An additional 600,000 were living with only the father and 5.2 million with only the mother. . . The latter includes one-half million children whose fathers are in the armed forces. . . In 1920, 16 percent of children under 18 were orphaned; in 1955, less than five percent were orphaned, indicating a favorable mortality trend.

FIFTY - five percent of the students now complete high school, but 45 per cent still drop out - some students simply cannot cope with the work but parental attitudes are primary factors.

AFTER reaching an all time peak in 1946, the divorce rate has been around 2.5 per 1,000 for the last five years. The rate, however, is considerably higher than before World War 2 and nearly double that in 1953. The Bureau of Census has estimated that by 1975, people at ages 65 and over will number about 20,500,000, or nearly 6,500,000 more than now.

THAT widowhood is a national problem is evident from the fact that of the 7,600,000 widows, more than half are 65 years or older. About one woman in every two who becomes a widow before the age of 65, has 20 or more years of life ahead of her.

A Family Service worker, at right, interviews a mother and her two children, an every-day occurrence. Family Service is a member of the Bucks County United Services Federation, now currently conducting its United Fund campaign.

Merger helps nonprofit groups

By Gema Maria Duarte, Staff writer

Contact of Greater Philadelphia and the Family Service Association of Bucks County have completed a merger.

As a result, the Family Service Association will operate the Crisis Response Line, Reassurance Program and Children of Aging Parents Program, effective immediately. All three were previously operated by Contact.

Betsy Rendall, president of the Family Service Association Board of Directors, said, “In a time when nonprofits are experiencing cuts in funding, it is imperative that the community find creative ways to sustain important services. The goal of this merger is to create a stronger and more efficient organization that is greater than the sum of the two parts. Together, we will continue to serve those facing a crisis in their lives and support older adults, as well as their caregivers.”

The Family Service Association works with more than 7,000 children and adults in Bucks each year through a wide range of programs, including outpatient counseling, early childhood services, parent education and programs for older adults.

“We are delighted to join forces with Family Service,” said William Blacker, president of the Contact board. “Contact’s mission, the Crisis Response Line, the Reassurance Program and the Children of Aging Parents Program dovetail seamlessly with the Family Service mission and existing programs.”

The merger will result in expanded services, better utilization of assets and reduced overhead, the officials said.

BUCK UP BUCKS COUNTY!

COMMENTARY

Goal passed in just 4 weeks

The phone call came about 3 p.m. Friday.

“Good news!” Managing Editor Rose Venditti McIver announced to a busy newsroom on deadline.

Executive Editor Pat Walker was on the other end of the line, calling from the Family Service Association of Bucks County’s headquarters, where she was meeting with CEO Audrey Tucker and David Ford, director of development.

In just four weeks, the Buck Up Bucks County! fundraising campaign for construction of a modern commercial kitchen at the Bucks County Emergency Homeless Shelter had met its goal.

That goal, and then some, just 30 days into a 60-day campaign.

Walker was saying the official tally at that moment was $200,647.

There are several fundraising events still scheduled for March, courtesy of generous schools and area business owners who support the mission of the shelter.

The mission?

To put people in crisis back on their feet. It starts by taking off just enough pressure so families can work with caseworkers to identify the cause of their homelessness and turn it around.

Poverty is traumatizing. You can see it in clients’ faces.

Of the 70 to 80 residents of the shelter, far more than half are women and their school-aged children. So many people in this county didn’t just open their hearts to them, they also opened their wallets.

That means meals will be provided more easily from a safe, efficient, modern kitchen.

What’s most satisfying about the success of the campaign — a cooperative effort of the shelter’s parent agency, the FSA, Comcast Corp., the Bucks County Courier Times and The Intelligencer — is that much of the money has been raised in quarters, crumpled bills and personal checks collected in canisters displayed in businesses. So many of our advertisers displayed

GOAL REACHED!

Given to date: $200,647 Goal: $200,000

Thank you

How do you begin to thank the thousands of people who have just pulled off a miracle?

Last summer, when the idea of Buck Up Bucks County! was born, we saw a need and were moved to do something. Born was a simple fund drive — four quarters paving the way to change. That drive spread from a flame to a wildfire. And you are the reason. Your generosity is overwhelming. In just a month, those quarters have added up to more than $200,000.

You sent a message to those around us who need help: You are there for them. They are not alone. You are there to help them get back on their feet. You are there to make sure they are well cared for and treated with dignity. You are there.

From the bottom of my heart, I want to be the first to thank each and every one of you for showing that, together, a community can rally around a common goal and make a difference.

Bristol Township homeless shelter to begin rapid re-housing program

By James McGinnis, Staff writer

You may ask one of Bucks County’s homeless just how it happened. But don’t ever expect a simple answer.

Living amid the forests of trash behind shopping centers in Bristol Township, homeless men and women tell stories of addiction and family members who just can’t deal with them anymore.

Some lost the job, before losing the house, before spending every night in the car or at a cheap roadside motor lodge. Others were forced into early retirement before Social Security benefits kicked in.

“The reality is that there’s never one thing that leads to homelessness,” said David Ford, director of development for the Family Service Association of Bucks County.

Many of the homeless now living at the FSA’s emergency shelter in Bristol Township could soon receive additional counseling services to help get them back on their feet.

The Bucks County commissioners have approved $100,000 in new state subsidies for a rapid re-housing program at the shelter. The new money could go to support the hiring of additional counselors for the facility, which is now at capacity with more than 75 residents. Half of those residents are children. One shelter guest is a baby who’s just 4 months old, Ford said.

“When a family ends up in the shelter, it’s the result of several factors, from a job loss to the lack of transportation, to the loss of a family member or a divorce or a cumulative illness,” Ford said.

Rapid re-housing case managers could be tasked with everything from job counseling to helping people find a way to get to and from work. But the largest challenge remains helping people budget for rent and mortgage payments in the suburbs, said Marlene Piasecki, director of program planning at the shelter.

“Imagine you’re a person who earns just $8.50 an hour and you work a 40-hour week. How much money would you have to spend every month on rent after you factor in the cost of transportation and food and other expenses? Housing is simply becoming out of reach for poorer people.”

Despite those challenges, the average stay appears to be dropping at the FSA shelter. Records from 2012 show the average stay for families with children was 135 and the average stay for an individual was 121 days. In the first three months of 2013, the average dropped to 87 days for families and 86 days for individuals, Ford said. Yet as soon as someone moves out, someone else moves in.

The last Bucks County homeless count, conducted on Jan. 30, found 124 people, including 17 families with children, who were on a waiting list for area shelters.

Search parties that visited outdoor areas known to be occupied by the homeless reported 29 men and women living on the streets. Bucks has a running total of 571 homeless, officials reported. That number includes people living on the streets as well as those enrolled in housing programs and staying at shelters.

We can help.

Unable to provide her with a safe place to sleep, Krystal's 4-year-old daughter, Sierra, was removed from her care by the Bucks County Children & Youth Social Service Agency. Krystal knew she'd have to make some big changes in her life in order to get her daughter back.

Thanks to your support, our Family Reunification case manager connected Krystal with a variety of community resources to help her get her home and life back in order.

Months later, Krystal's home passed an inspection which allowed her to have unsupervised overnight visits with Sierra. Shortly thereafter, the Bucks County Children & Youth Social Service Agency notified our Family Reunification team that Krystal and Sierra would be reunited.

of adults age 65+ want to stay in their homes as they age.⁶

We can help.

At 85 years old, Charlie was finally showing his age. A widower with no family nearby, he had taken a few falls recently and was struggling to accomplish day-to-day tasks.

Charlie's biggest fear was that he would have to leave his home and move into an assisted living facility.

Thanks to you, Charlie's fear was put to rest. Your support enables one of our case managers to work in Charlie's senior housing building. Our case manager arranged in-home medical, emergency response and household services for him, making it safe and comfortable for Charlie to continue living at home.

Over 75%

of adults with Asperger's Syndrome do not hold a full-time job.⁷

We can help.

Robert, a 23-year-old with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), struggled with time management, self-discipline and social skills. As a result, he had a difficult time maintaining steady employment. Despite his challenges in the workplace, Robert knew he could be successful with the right support and some hard work.

Thanks to your support of our Autism Program, Robert began working at the Service Learning Center, a thrift shop that we operate with the purpose of providing meaningful job training to people with ASD. With help from his job coach, he improved his skills and started to show initiative.

Robert now works at a larger retailer. While he continues to receive support from his job coach when needed, he enjoys the self-determination that comes with earning a paycheck. Robert plans to continue working so he can become even more independent.

teens ages 13-18 have an anxiety disorder. Of those teens, only 18% receive mental health care.⁸

We can help.

15-year-old Justine has a history of being bullied by her peers. She suffers from depression and anxiety and has repeatedly had thoughts of self-harm.

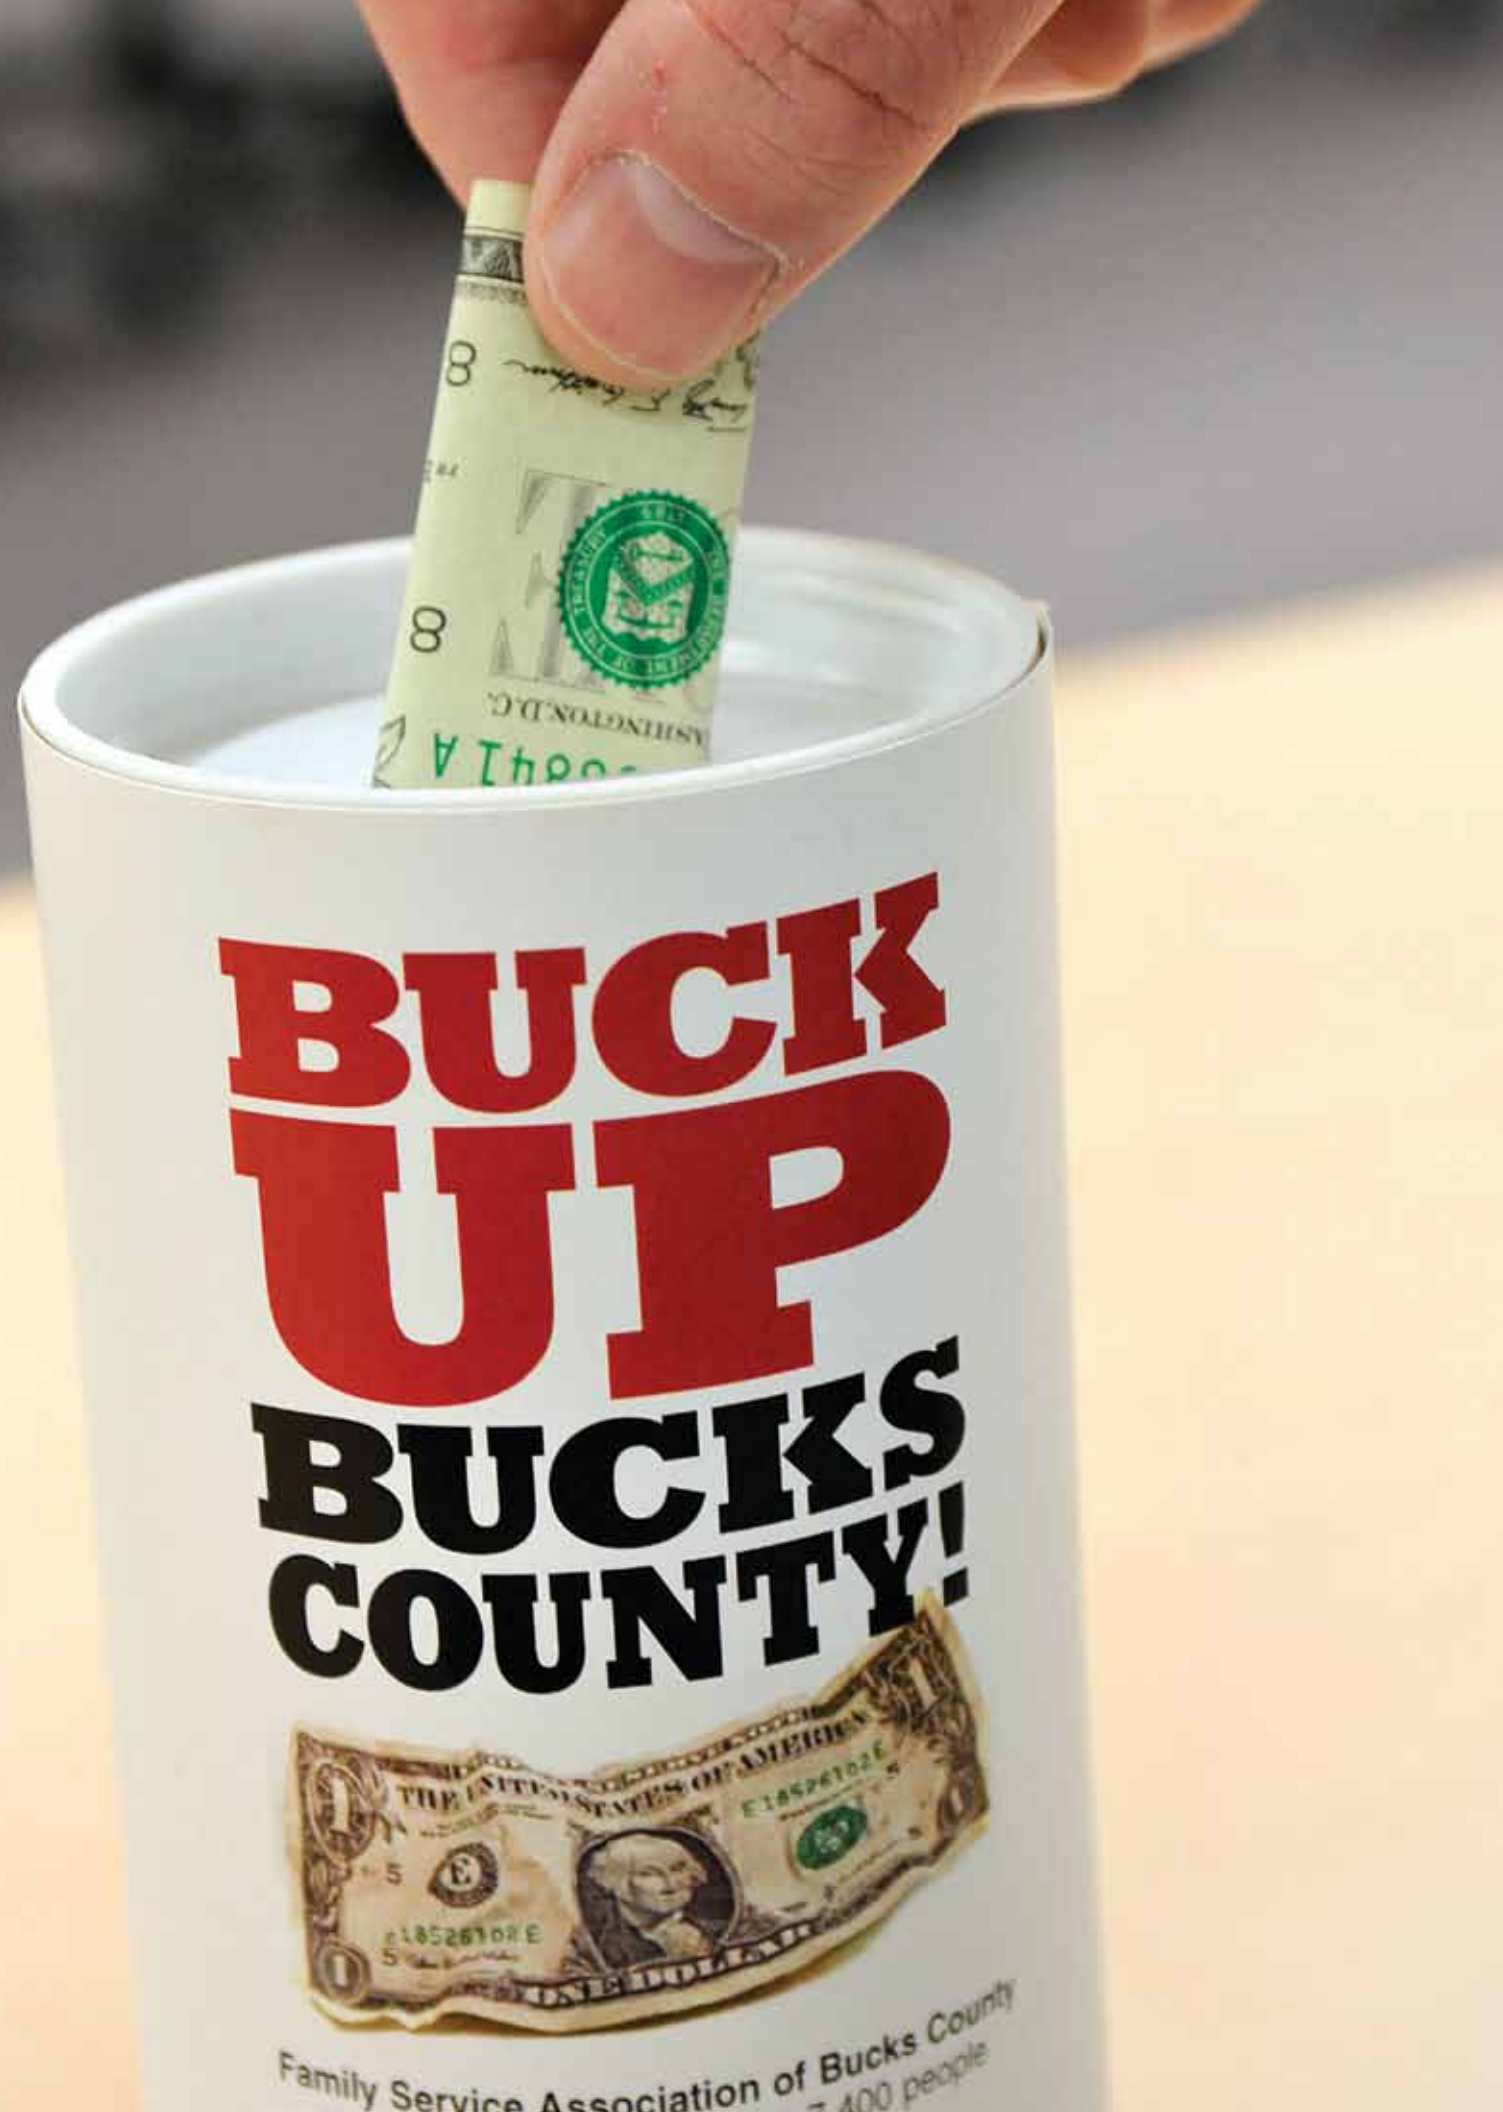

Justine was referred to The Teen Center by her school guidance counselor. Gradually she began to connect with some of the other teens there, and she started opening up to one of the counselors. Thanks to your support, Justine has a safe, welcoming place where she can go to hang out with friends and talk to a professional whenever she feels the need.

After visiting The Teen Center regularly for quite some time now, Justine reports that she feels “happy and connected” for the first time in a long time.

THE POWER OF A DOLLAR

The Buck Up Bucks County campaign asked residents to donate a dollar each so the Bucks County Emergency Homeless Shelter could get a desperately needed kitchen renovation. The community responded with over $200,000 in just 27 days!

Buck Up Bucks County launched on February 3, 2013 and, with a great deal of help from the Courier Times, The Intelligencer and Comcast, was quickly a success. Online donations immediately poured in and, a few days after the launch, a pile of mail at least a foot high arrived with donations of varying amounts totaling thousands of dollars. Many included heartfelt notes of care, support and encouragement for both the campaign and shelter residents.

In the weeks that followed, thousands of individuals, families, service organizations, local businesses, schools, athletic teams, faith-based organizations, government officials and non-profits joined the fundraising effort. Buck Up Bucks County canisters made their way into hundreds of local businesses, and on March 1st, just 27 days after launch, our $200,000 goal was met.

On June 5th, with architectural drawings complete, contractors lined up and a temporary modular kitchen parked behind the shelter, demolition began. Just 56 days later, construction was finished. The project included a complete overhaul of the kitchen, food storage area, laundry facility and loading dock. The newly-improved kitchen now features a walk-in refrigerator, a more efficient preparation area, a cooling system and brand-new appliances, lighting, shelving, flooring and much more. Overall, the new kitchen is safer and more efficient, and it will continue to be the source of three meals per day for 75-80 residents. Staff and volunteers gathered for a ribbon cutting on August 7th, and meal preparation in the new kitchen began that evening.

The success of the fundraising campaign and construction are a direct result of having the right people involved. It was a "perfect storm." We are very grateful to the following people for their support: Pat Walker and the entire team of writers, reporters, photographers, videographers and staff at The Intelligencer and Bucks County Courier Times; Tom Schrier, Volunteer Project Engineer; Cheryl Schrier, Volunteer Kitchen Designer Extraordinaire; Franco D'Andrea, Ian Dove and The Huffman Group; Brian Jeter and the entire team at Comcast; and last but certainly not least, all of the citizens who contributed to this renovation.

The grand total donated was $282,000. 100% of the money raised went directly to the project. Donations above and beyond $200,000 enabled us to renovate twice the amount of space as originally planned. The community's response, as well as the efficiency and success of Buck Up Bucks County, was unprecedented.

Every 9 ½ minutes

someone becomes infected with HIV.⁹

We can help.

Peter's life took a turn for the worse in 2004 when he found out he was HIV positive. He became trapped by stigma and shame, entering a downward spiral into drug addiction, incarceration and homelessness. Peter lost his marriage, friends, family and hope to go on.

A medical professional connected Peter to our HIV/AIDS Program, and thanks to your support, our medical case manager and care outreach specialist were able to help Peter put his life back together.

With guidance and support, Peter successfully completed a drug treatment program, moved into stable housing and secured a job. He is slowly rebuilding relationships with friends and family, and Peter now has hope for a great future.

adults in the United States struggle with depression.¹⁰

We can help.

At 55 years old, Karen had dealt with depression and substance abuse since she was a teenager. She sought treatment a number of times but hadn't been ready to follow through until a couple of years ago when she came to us for help. This time, Karen was committed to getting her health and her life back on track.

Without family members or sober friends in the area to support her, Karen's team of professionals became her family. She met regularly with a case manager, therapist, doctor and nurse who, together, came up with her comprehensive treatment plan. For the first time in her life, Karen dealt with the underlying causes of her depression and substance abuse. She was clean for the first time in years.

Thanks to your support of our counseling and therapy programs, Karen received the services she needed to move forward. She remains committed to staying substance-free so that she can be happy, healthy and present in her life.
