

Giving back

Sam Kadan, an orthodontist with offices in Doylestown, recently donated $5,000 to Central Bucks Family YMCA's camp financial assistance program. Along with other contributions from area businesses, the support allowed 140 area children to attend the Y's summer camps, participation otherwise not affordable for some families.

CONTRIBUTED

Merck & Company's Foundation Neighbor of Choice (NOC) program recently donated a $25,000 grant to Special Equestrians therapeutic riding center in Warrington. The grant was awarded to support programs for low-income individuals with disabilities; collaborations with alternative schools; and community organizations serving special-needs and at-risk youth. National Penn, now part of the BB&T financial institution, recently donated $15,000 to Family Service Association of Bucks County, a nonprofit organization that serves more than 24,000 people in need annually. In the photo (from left), Deborah B. Van Aken, second vice president and Michael J. Mattie, president, both members of the Family Service board of directors; Todd Alderfer, director of commercial banking, and Martha (Marti) Green, former vice president of commercial lending, both of National Penn. Outreach services include emergency help, parent education, mental health services and job support, The Bucks County Emergency Homeless Shelter temporary residence for individuals and families. Typically, about one-third of the shelter's residents are children. National Penn's donation supports Family Service's plan to build a playground at the shelter and expand parking facilities for families and service providers.
